SN Phonics Story

Once upon a time, in a quiet forest, there was a snail named Sammy. Sammy was slow, but he loved exploring his world. One chilly morning, snow began to fall softly, covering the ground like a white blanket. Sammy thought it was snazzy and decided to go on a little adventure to see more of the sparkling snow.

As Sammy slid along, he heard a loud snore coming from a cave nearby. Curious, he peeked inside and found a sleepy bear snoozing.

Suddenly, Sammy let out a loud sneeze, which echoed through the cave. The bear woke up with a snap and looked around, confused. Sammy felt nervous but smiled politely at the bear.

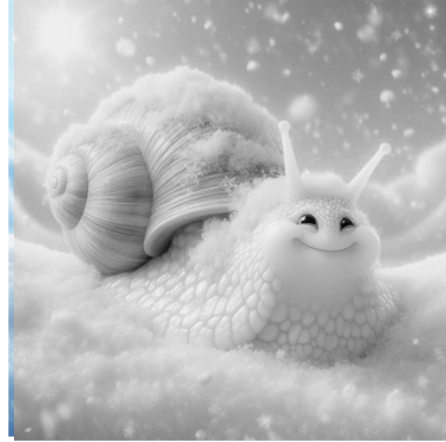

The bear stretched and said, "Good morning, little snail! Are you exploring in the snow?" Sammy nodded and replied, "Yes, and I think the snow is beautiful!"

The bear chuckled and offered Sammy a snack—a small pile of nuts and berries. Sammy was delighted and thanked the bear for the tasty treat.

After their snack, Sammy continued his snowy adventure. He thought about how much fun he had meeting the bear and seeing the snow. As the sun began to set, Sammy slid back home, feeling happy and grateful. He realized that even a slow snail could have a snazzy day full of surprises!

SN Poem	Sn Words	Rhyming Words
A snail woke up in the snow, Its shell shining with a gentle glow. The world was quiet, not a single snore, The day promised wonders to explore. It slid along and heard a snap, The branches broke, creating a gap. The snail sneezed—oh, what a sound! Soft snowflakes danced all around. A bear appeared with a tasty snack, Berries and nuts in a small, neat pack. "Try this," it said with a snazzy grin, The snail smiled wide, joy within. The snow sparkled, the air so clear, A snazzy day for friends to cheer. Slowly they wandered, side by side, In their snowy world, filled with pride.	snow	snow, glow
